CANADIAN CUSTOMS BROKERAGE

With import laws and regulations becoming increasingly complex and changing frequently, many companies are turning to a licensed customs broker to simplify their transactions.

Our team strives to fully understand the nature of your business and the challenges you face. We provide you with personalized customs advice, in line with current regulations, and carefully verify declarations. Our extensive knowledge enables us to master the ins and outs of the industry so as to prevent any unforeseen problems or delays.

Trust your customs arrangements to W2C's compliance specialists for total peace of mind, saving you time and money wherever you are in Canada.

U.S. CUSTOMS BROKERAGE

As a Canadian company, you're entirely responsible for clearing your goods into the United States. Why burden yourself with tedious details when you can let W2C take care of everything? Our specialists handle all customs procedures, freeing you from financial and logistical headaches. We make the process simple in three steps: obtaining the necessary documents and importer number, classifying products and checking their eligibility under current agreements and regulations, and finally choosing the best shipping process depending on the reason for your export.

Once your shipment is in our hands, we manage customs clearance at the border and provide complete tracking, keeping you up to date every step of the way. With W2C, you can focus on your core business with full confidence, without worrying about the intricacies of U.S. customs regulations.

CUSTOMS TRAINING

W2C delivers customized training for commercial importers and exporters, geared to the specific nature of their business. Our customs specialists provide vital information through concrete examples and case studies. Unfortunately, customs compliance is often overlooked, putting companies at significant financial risk in the event of non-compliance.

Our essential and specific training courses cover a wide range of topics, from customs classification to compliance management in international trade. In addition, we offer courses on rules of origin to ensure correct product classification. Our training seminars are available online or face-to-face, as well as in the form of customized programs for companies.

A lack of training on customs procedures places businesses at serious financial risk. Through our programs, your employees will understand the financial implications of non-compliance and be better equipped to manage customs activities.
